

How to act respectfully

1. First step

The teacher asks the pupils, as a homework, to look up for a definition of RESPECT and to write it down.

2. Second step

Back at school, the teacher analyses with his pupils the different definitions they wrote down. The class decides about a final definition.

The teacher then asks his pupils

- to describe ways they have acted respectfully or disrespectfully during the past week,
- to make a list of people they think are respectful and explain why exactly they have added these people to the list.

3. Third step

The teacher discusses with his class about the results of their reflections and about the importance of acting respectfully.
